Headline:
Damp start Tuesday, but gradually becoming drier and brighter.

Today:
A damp and cloudy start with patchy light rain and drizzle. Drier and brighter conditions reaching Lough Foyle and the north coast by lunchtime and gradually becoming brighter elsewhere during the afternoon with some sunny spells developing. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Rather cloudy end to the day in south, but cloud will break up in evening. Then a dry night with clear periods and light winds, allowing a frost to develop. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Wednesday:
A frost in places at first, then mainly dry with bright or sunny spells. Rather cool, but feeling pleasant in afternoon sunshine with light winds, but chilly in the shade. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Dry and settled with bright or sunny spells by day and clear spells at night. Feeling pleasant in any afternoon sunshine, but chilly nights with the risk of a frost.
